

CENTER FOR ECONOMIC AND BUSINESS LAW

About the Center:

"Center for Economic and Business Law" is established under the auspices of School of Law, National University of Mongolia. The Center conducts policy-related, sectoral and interdisciplinary research in economic and business law sectors; organizes training for specialist in commercial law and promotes development of targetted sectors. The center actively includes LLM, PhD students and other researchers in its research teams.

The Center for Economic and Business Law consists of 8 main member, including leacturers, professors and researchers from the School of Law of the National University of Mongolia. Among them, there are 5 lecturers with a doctorate degree and 3 lecturers with a master's degree. Other law school faculty members participate in the center's research on an open basis.

Research areas:

The main research area of the Center:

- legal framework of business and economy, including commercial law, civil law, contract law;
- international economic law, international trade and investment law;
- Global economic and business law environment with focus on neighboring countries;
- monitoring study of court decisions related to economic and business disputes;
- legal sociology studies related to business environment and law enforcement.

Research projects and other academic work of the Center for the academic year of 2022-2023:

1. Competition Law: Theory and Practice, 2022. (Published inMongolian and Japanese languages)
2. A comparative study of some issues and legal regulations for consumer protection, 2022.
3. Research report on the legal status of the independent regulatory body in the communications industry: Communications Regulatory Commission of Mongolia, 2022.
4. Report on analysis regarding elimination of duplications and violations of laws in the enviromental sector, and on drafting of a law to amend the relevant laws of the sector, 2022. Global Green Growth Institute project.
5. Regulatory instruments of the competition law sources of Mongolia (1993-2022), 2022.

6. Report on the draft regulations for the implementation of anti-dumping and anti-subsidy measures at the national level, 2022. World Bank project.
7. Report on development and promotion of export, value-added production, and support for creating a favorable tax environment, 2022.

International collaboration:

Center for Economic and Business Law is cooperating with the following organizations:

- Ministry of Justice and Internal Affairs of Mongolia
- National Legal Institute of Mongolia
- Ministry of Justice of Japan
- JICA
- Friedrich Ebert Foundation, Germany
- Global Green Development Institute /GGGI/
- Telecommunications Regulatory Commission of Mongolia
- Institute of Economics of National University of Mongolia

In addition, the Center cooperates with professors from Kookmin University (South Korea), University of Bayreuth (Germany), and Nagoya University (Japan).

Address:

United Nations Street 17, National University of Mongolia, School of Law,
Department of Private Law, Building 3B, Room 301.

Contact: 75754400, 77307730 - 3501

Email: cebl@num.edu.mn

The official responsible:

Director: Amarsanaa Batbold

Academic secretary: Dr. Uyanga Myagmar, Associate professor, School of Law, NUM

uyanga_m@num.edu.mn

Dr. Ninjin Bataa, Senior lecturer, School of Law, NUM

ninjin.b@num.edu.mn